

How Library Stuff Works Videos: How to Search for a Book by Title

Let's find this book in the library.

From the library homepage make sure that you are in catalogue and type in the title of the book you are looking for.

What luck! There are two copies of this book.

One is in print at Mills, but it's checked out.

The other copy is an e-book.

Just click here, to read the book online.

You don't even need to be in the library. You can read it anytime, anywhere.

Let's say the book was available.

The call number is like the address of the book.

You will need to write it down in order to find the book in the stacks.

At Mills, refer to our Book Locator handout to find the corresponding floor.
