"Taking off from French aerodromes well behind the Maginot Line on 15 January, 1940, some Wellington bombers flew to Prague, a long trip deep into Czechoslovakia, for the first time and although their primary object was the dropping of leaflets, they supplemented this by also dropping a number of English newspapers which the crews had collected in their messes just before setting off. The identities of the newspapers are not known but the first pamphlet to be dropped over Czechoslovakia was a message from Great Britain exposing the weakness and the iniquities of the Nazi regime. Initiated by the Psychological Warfare Executive operating out of Electra House on the Embankment – as were all the early leaflets of the war – it was numbered 267" (Reg Auckland. First Leaflets. The Aero Field. VICHY OCCUPATION

LEAFLETS DROPPED BY THE GERMANS AND VICHY GOVERNMENT DURING THE OCCUPATION OF FRANCE (1940-1945)

Note : Some of these leaflets were also distributed to the population by other means. We include also leaflets imitating and making a parody of Allied leaflets.

0815

R.A.F. = U.S.A.A.F. folded leaflet 12mo oblong. On the outside, it represents a bomb with the R.A.F. message listed and on the inside, a message against Allied bombings. Jammes p. 28 dates it from May 12, 1944. 265 x 90 (closed).

0816

Paris, 16 septembre 1936. Je tire une traite sur l'avenir. Léon Blum. Folded leaflet 12mo oblong. On the reverse, a picture of bombed houses. Jammes p. 28 dates it from 1944. 105 x 270 (open).

Avant que ne tombent les feuilles. Churchill avait promis la libération...et les feuilles sont tombées. 2 pp. 12mo. 2 versions are included here. Jammes p. 28 describes the two versions and dates them from November 7, 1943. 155 x 120.

0817: Caricature of Churchill's bust and a tree losing its leaves.

0818: Caricature of Churchill reading a speech under a pile of leaves.

0819

[Folded fac-simile of an American dollar bill]. 4 pp. 12mo oblong. Antisemitic progaganda. According to Polonski's La presse, la propagande et l'opinion publique sous l'occupation (1946. p. 126), this leaflet was distributed in September 1941 during the antisemitic exhibition Le Juif et la France. Jammes p. 28 states it was dropped in October 1943. This very well-known leaflet was probably distributed in France for a few years and in different circumstances. 65 x 155.

0820

Je suis tombée, oh Churchill ! Où es-tu ? Où sont tes soldats ? 2 pp. 12mo. Same text on both sides. Leaflet in the shape of an oak leaf. Jammes p. 28 dates it from November 7, 1943. 120 x 140.

0821

Pâques 44...Je reviens de Rome.les Anglais n'y étaient pas encore..alors..à la Trinité ? Leaflet in the shape of a bell. Jammes p. 28 dates it from April 9, 1944. 100 x 105.

0822

Les paroles et ...les actes. Voilà la nature de "l'aide"...anglaise aux populations françaises. 2 pp. illustrated with photographs of bombed buildings. The leaflet also reproduces part of the Allied aerial leaflet Aux populations de la France occupée (code 1942-F8 and dropped from March to May 1942). Against Allied bombings. Jammes p. 28 dates it from March 20, 1942. 185 x 265.

0823

Français ! Paris vit des instants éminemment critiques.. 2 pp. 12mo. The famous Von Choltitz leaflet, one of the last produced by the Germans for Paris. The Commander of the Wehrmacht in Paris appeals to the citizens of Paris to cease all hostility against the Germans if they want to save their city. It was most probably air-dropped during the liberation of Paris. The book by Bourget et Lacretelle (2nd ed. p. 191) on Paris posters dates it from August 21, 1944 while Jammes (p. 28) dates it from August 23. 225 x 155.

0824

Conseils aux Français. 2 pp. 8vo. Repeats the recommendations of the Allied aerial leaflet 1943- F54 (dropped from April to August 1943). Jammes p. 13 describes this forgery. 210 x 135.

BLACK PROPAGANDA

Black propaganda was a form of propaganda warfare used by the British against the Germans. False information that is said to be from one side of conflicting groups is actually from the opposing side. It has been described as an attempt to disrupt the enemy's will and power to fight on. Leaflets dropped over Germany and German occupied centres were delivered in several ways; postal services, railway wagons, border crossing agents, and hidden in ships' cargoes. A piece of black propaganda, reporting an attempt on Hitler's life, was to become the biggest news story of the war for the black propaganda team.

FORGED GERMAN RATIONING DOCUMENTS:

0836

Portion of sheet containing 15 coupons for meat (50g). Blue. Date limit of 6.2.44. One lateral margin intact. See Auckland p. 34-35.

0837

Portion of sheet containing 10 coupons for cheese (30g). Green. Date limit of 6.2.44. One lateral margin present. See Auckland p.34-35 and the cover of this reference work illustrated with these coupons for cheese.

0838

Half-sheet containing 50 coupons for bread (50g). Red. Date limit of 6.2.44. See Auckland p.34-35.

0839

Forged ration card on yellow card with coupons dated September 1st 1940 to June 1st 1941. Handstamp with the unfortunate spelling error Hanfastadt instead of Hansastadt. Serial no. XHa 673872 which exceeds the limits described by Auckland (588885 to 672271). According to Auckland about 83,000 of these cards were dropped by planes on Hamburg in July 1941 and possibly in March 1941. They were quickly spotted as forgeries because of the spelling error in the handstamp. These are now quite rare since most of the cards were destroyed by the German government which made it illegal to own them. For more details, see Auckland p. 2-10 and reproductions fig. 3, 4 and 5. 150 x 105 (closed) and 150 x 420 (open).

FRENCH – BRITISH – GERMAN (various)

763 – Alsaciens ! Luxembourgeois ! 2 pp. 16mo. With the heading Lis et donne aux Camarade !. This leaflet was dropped on soldiers from Alsace and Luxemburg fighting with the German Army. The French is quite primitive with many spelling and grammatical mistakes. 135 x 95.

0853

Citoyens ! L'Invasion alliée sera bientôt un fait accompli... 1 p. Large 8vo. According to the description in the Psywar auction sale (where it was bought), this leaflet was printed in England and used as a "training leaflet" by the Office of War Information. The text has the printed signature of General De Gaulle but the signature is not at all similar to the original. Ex. collection Jan de Groot. 220 x 160.

0854

From the Führer's Speech. 2 pp. folio. Hitler speech of July 29, 1940. According to R.G. Auckland and Keith B. Moore, this leaflet was sent by the Germans by balloon and was found in the regions of Midland and Yorkshire as well as in Wales on August 3 and 6, 1940. They assign no. GBG14 to this leaflet in their book Messages from the sky over Britain (1998) p. 40 and reproduce it p. 41. A manuscript note in the top margin of this copy states: 13.8.40. These were all over the field this am kindly dropped in the night "ships that pass in the night" eh? It is rubbish bread. One perched itself on our (?) house roof. May have a "foul" effect on'em !. See a short article on this particular copy in Falling Leaf no. 161 p. 48-50. 315 x 225.

0855

(13831) K.H.K. 9/41. Marins Français !. Leaflet possibly air-dropped by the Free French Naval Forces to French sailors. 1 p. large 8vo. Protests against the assassination of Commander d'Estienne d'Orves (see Broadside section) in August 1941. Black border. 230 x 145.

0856

Que s'est-il passé à Vichy ?. 2 pp. 4to on blue paper. Rather strange leaflet apparently dropped by a French plane on Bourges on 16 October 1943 (according to a note in pencil on the leaflet and confirmed by Jammes). The place had left Vichy the same day. The text explains the decision of Marshall Pétain to enact a new constitution and to pass on his power to the National Assembly should he die in office. Pro-Pétain and anti-Laval text. Jammes p. 30 classifies it under "tracts divers" but it was definitely dropped by place. 270 x 210.

0857: This item is located in BOX 3.

Saint Omer Libéré. A puzzling leaflet/newspaper entirely in English and containing completely fictitious news and photographs (Allied landing in France in 1943 !!). May have been a practice leaflet used for training in England.

vol.1 no.1. Thursday, December 30, 1943. 2 pp. large 4to. 355 x 255 mm.

0858: This item is located in BOX 3.

Vive la Patrie. A bas les Boches. 2 pp. folio. Code (I4586). Very rare questionnaire dropped by airplane and sent by carrier pigeon to France during 1942-1943. The document gives precise instructions on how to take care of the pigeons. It is basically a questionnaire on enemy activity, troupes and any other military information including enemy radio communications. The information was to be put in a small tube and attached to the pigeon. A similar document (from the De Groot collection) is reproduced with an extract of the book by R.V. Jones in Falling Leaf no.90 (Fall 1980) p. 114-117. The code of the De Groot document is different from the one on this copy. Worn at the folds. 320 x 210.
